As there are no technological solutions to death, there is only the daily task of accepting the fragility and contingency of the human condition. Smile, it's an amazing task!

diegle.com is some little help offered to all those who live on the edge and face risks on their lives. As an example, all without borders (doctors, journalists, clowns...), people with dangerous hobbies (aka.parachuting...), high profile sports (aka. freeride snowboard...) and difficult jobs (yes, we may have some spys too)

In addition to those said before think of rockstars and top models, probloggers, chanson and prosodie monsters and kings and queens.It's the perfect service for gangstas, New Yorkers, Lady Di's and party-animals. diegle.com is for people that embraces the idea that playing small doesn't serve the world.

Why this people? because they capture, like no other, the intellectual and emotional capital of World's aging vitalforce+workforce . While nothing will replace them, diegle.com captures their best thinking and feelings so that can be a powerful legacy and stepping stone for those who will follow. Besides, accidents happen. And they suck. Statistically more than one person dies from lighting collision every year. diegle.com allow you to control, minimize, the damage done by the unexpected.

We are your legacy keepers, and we give you the chance to control your lasts words and the way you'll be remembered. We are what lawyers will never be and do: we take care of your emotions.

diegle.com* offers basically two features for 3€/year*:

1) Your last profile. You do the stroytelling of your life. PREVIEW!

On this profile other diegle users will be able to comment and post the pictures they have with you, the video of that trip you did together...

2) Say your goodbyes with your last mails.

Both features will be on stand by and will only be activated (send emails and online your last profile) after your death, many many many years from now.

The process here is simple and secure: you will be given an activation code and you should give it to the person you trust the most (your trust ones).

diegle.com is not a sad service. All who rest here lived the life they had choosen. All who rest here celebrate every day on earth as the last day and lived fullfilling, authentics lives. In Camus words, all who rest here are the man and woman who lived to the point of tears.

We could have called AVALON, the place where heroes' souls go according to ancient greeks.

diegle.com it's a service for people who smile more and think that legacy can be something more than genetics.

0s and 1s never die. Life secuencia is 0 1 0. After the second 0 it's on us.

Offline is a state of mind but as we are an start up we can only host your last profile for as long as you've been paying maintenace. In other words, if you are 10 years with us, you'll get 10 years free maintenace after your death. However, if we reach 1.000.000 users, you'll get an extra 10 years (maintenace free) after your death guarantee. if we reach 10.000.000 we'll go up to 25 years. SO BETTER SPREAD diegle.com ;)

*because we are not totally naive you can change the activation code or THE person at any time. The activation process is fully secured to ensure we have not even one mistake. We also ensure your data won't be selled to anyone. If you use diegle.com we are allready friends.
